

CIRCLE OF YOUR LIFE

The circle of your life will depend on how you draw it.
I hope you never waste a day feeling animosity towards your fellow man.

Allow your soul to feel infinite love with forgiveness;
Help someone every chance you get.

Share joy and happiness;
Be kind and choose to be loving.

Ultimately what you give will come back to you.
How will you draw the circle of your life?

WORTH EVERY DIME

The rhythm of the rain had me mesmerized
As I watched the wipers synchronized.

I thought I was alone in my car
When I saw in the passenger seat my Guiding Star;
Sitting close, feeling warm, and radiating heat.

I was never alone even when it appeared I was.
The thunder roared and it poured.
I drove for miles,
But it never dampened my smile.

I knew the journey would be extensive,
And at times expensive,
But it was worth every dime.

When the rain had lifted and was gone,
Actually right before dawn,
I parked the car and stood in awe of the Incredible, colorful, graceful rainbow.

My journey had been long,
But because of it I found my true song.

The colors in the rainbow made me see it's me
Who must seek and find the place where I can shine.

Comforted in Divine Mind.
It was worth every dime.
